

Van Zyverden's
ALLIUM GLOBEMASTER

Ornamental allium are just a small part of a large genus of over 400 species of mostly onion scented herbs that includes the common onion, leek, garlic, chive and shallot. This makes gardeners wonder if they should include them in their ornamental gardening plans since it conjures up images of supermarket produce. Allium blooms create high drama and interest in the garden and range in color from white, yellow, pink to purple, few to a great many, always in a ball shape of loose or tight, sparse or dense flower clusters. The leaves of only a few smell like onions - normally only when bruised. With over 300 species to choose from, the allium group is a popular choice for the spring garden.

Excellent naturalizer

Perfect as a dried flower

Deer and rodent resistant

About This Variety: Allium Globemaster is known for its large, deep lavender flowers atop gray-green strap-shaped leaves rising from a clump. Allium Globemaster is used as an ornamental with its strong stems and impressive, long-lasting flowers that bloom in spring.

Growing Instructions: Since allium does not like wet feet, find a sunny location where the soil drains well. The bulbs will rot in wet areas. Aside from that, almost no maintenance is required.

Care Tip: Dig, divide, and replant bulbs after a few years of decreasing flower production.

Exposure: Full sun to partial shade

Height: Grows 36-40" tall

Spacing: Plant 12" apart, 4-6" deep

USDA Zones: Hardy in USDA zones 5-8

Guaranteed to grow 1 year from purchase if directions are followed. Any concerns related to quality and/or counts feel free to contact us.
