

UNBEETABLE™ BEET PULP

NATURAL. SAFE. VERSATILE.

Unbeetable Beet Pulp, available in pellets or shreds, is a highly digestible fiber source trusted by horse owners and livestock producers alike.

Made from beet pulp—with both molasses-free and molasses-added options—it provides safe, steady energy in the form that best fits your feeding program.

Beet pulp is often called a “super fiber” because of its unique ability to deliver as much usable energy as oats—while supporting gut health and maintaining a healthy hindgut environment.

Whether you choose pellets or shreds, Unbeetable Beet Pulp is a simple, effective way to fuel performance, support weight gain, or provide additional fiber across species.

WHY CHOOSE UNBEETABLE BEET PULP?

- Highly Digestible Fiber – More digestible than hay, providing safe energy from fiber instead of starch.
- Low Starch & Sugar Options – Choose between plain or molasses-added formulas depending on your horse’s or livestock’s needs.
- Pellets or Shreds – Select the form that works best for your feeding program.
- Supports Gut Health – Ferments slowly in the hindgut or rumen, supporting the microbiome, and promoting a healthy digestive environment.
- Multi-Species Friendly – Trusted for horses, cattle, sheep, goats, and camelids.
- Quick Soaking with No Binders or Fillers

WHEN TO FEED UNBEETABLE BEET PULP?

- As a safe source of extra calories and fiber for horses and other livestock
- To add digestible fiber when hay quality is poor or limited
- As a partial forage replacement or supplement alongside hay or pasture
- For animals needing a soft, easy-to-chew fiber source
- To support healthy weight, topline, and condition across species
