

仁作 NISAKU

STAINLESS STEEL WEEDING KNIFE

MODEL: NJP650

Made in Japan

The Nisaku Stainless Steel Weeding Knife boasts a concave blade featuring both straight and serrated edges that are useful for dividing plants, planting or transplanting bulbs, flowers and herbs, digging out weeds, removing rocks, cutting through roots and so much more! A comfortable wooden handle provides a reliable, non-slip grip for all-day digging, and ensures you push into the soil with more control. Includes deluxe sheath for safe storage.

Instructions for Use:

Unsheath the knife by releasing the button collar, and carefully remove the knife from the protective sheath.

NOTE: The distinct inch markings engraved on the stainless steel blade will ensure your plants and bulbs are planted at precisely the right depth. Holding the ergonomic wooden handle, simply dig, cut, scoop and measure to the correct depth depending on the item being planted.

To cut roots, vines and twigs, use the serrated edge to saw as needed.

Clean the handle with a soft, damp cloth as needed.

Once you've finished using the knife, slide the blade back into the sheath for safe storage, and button the collar for a safe, secure fit.

⚠CAUTION! This tool is sharp. To avoid injury, store in a high or secure location and away from the reach of children.
