

Fortify Their Immune Defences

- ✓ The botanicals provide antioxidant properties that help against oxidative stress
- ✓ Boosts the immune system for proper working of biochemical interactions
- ✓ Protects cells against free radical damage from oxidative stress
- ✓ Ideally used for allergies, chronic infections, illnesses, inflammatory responses, skin and coat issues
- ✓ Helps relieve general debility, especially during convalescence
- ✓ A herbal formula with adaptogenic properties to boost the immune system
- ✓ Contains phytonutrients and trace minerals that benefit the immune function
- ✓ Helps the body to counteract the effects of stress, both physical and for mental exertion

HealthyPet™ is specially formulated with biological response modifying herbs containing antioxidant properties which help to maintain normal immune system function, and to reduce the negative effects associated with stress. The following herbs are contained in HealthyPet™; Reishi mushroom, Astragalus, Echinacea, Ashwagandha and Eleuthero root.

The immune system is a network of cells, tissues, and organs that work together to defend the body against bacteria, parasites, viruses, and fungi that can cause infections. The key to self-healing is a strong immune system which protects dogs and cats from everything from germs to cancer cells. HealthyPet™ can help to stimulate the cat's or dog's immune system, calling up the defence team. This action helps decrease the incidence of illness caused by viruses and bacteria that can be out of balance because of extra stressors. The HealthyPet™ formulation enhances the immune functions while restoring energy levels by activating a number of immune system pathways with a synergistic combination of restorative herbal ingredients. Boosting the immune system is important for animals suffering from fatigue and other chronic ailments. Ideally, HealthyPet™ is used during allergy seasons, in multi-pet care situations (for prevention), when a pet is travelling or is in a new environment. When symptoms of fatigue, lethargy, weight loss, inflammation or a dull coat are apparent, it could be an indication the immune functions are running low. Try boosting the immune system with antioxidants, phytonutrients and trace minerals, and get to know the ingredients in HealthyPet™.

Reishi mushroom fruiting body (Ganoderma lucidum) has traditionally been used to dispel phlegm, stops coughs and arrests wheezing by supporting the immune pathways through its anti-inflammatory actions. It has also been used as a liver tonic and may promote appetite. Its nutrients and trace elements provide antioxidants to maintain better health. Reishi mushroom enhances the T-lymphocyte activity, thus boosting the immune system. It has adaptogenic, anti-allergic, anti-inflammatory, anti-microbial, antioxidant and immune stimulant actions.

Astragalus (Astragalus membranaceus) is known to stimulate the immune system through its antioxidant actions toward inflammatory conditions. Antioxidants help to protect the cells against damage caused by free radical damage and is used for preventing and supporting the body from various stressors. It is a rejuvenating tonic to the liver and helps maintain a healthy immune system. This may help the body to cope better both physically and mentally. Astragalus root helps maintain a healthy immune system, helps the body to better cope with both physical and mental stress, boosts energy levels, and promotes recovery from anemia. It has adaptogenic, antioxidant, digestive, diuretic, nerve, immunostimulant and tonic properties.

Echinacea (Echinacea angustifolia) is commonly used for colds or flu-like symptoms and relieves symptoms of upper respiratory tract infections. It boosts the immune system directly due to a number of active chemicals like polysaccharides, alkylamides, flavonoids and polyacetylenes. For example, arabinogalactan is a very powerful immunomodulating polysaccharide and is effective in activating macrophages, interleukin and interferon with an increase in natural killer T cell activity. It can boost the immune system to attack and kill microbial actions, thus echinacea is effective in stimulating the immune pathways. Echinacea helps to relieve symptoms of upper respiratory tract infections; it supports the immune system; and maintains healthy skin. It has analgesic, anti-inflammatory, anti-microbial, antiseptic, diaphoretic, immunomodulating, stimulant and tonic properties.

Ashwagandha (Withania somnifera) is traditionally used as a rejuvenating tonic to help relieve general weakness, especially during recovery times. It can help reduce cortisol levels which reduces stress and anxiety. Therefore, it can help the cat's and dog's body to cope better both physically and mentally with stress. It has a strong adaptogenic action that works synergistically to enhance the restorative effects of astragalus and eleuthero root. Ashwagandha root helps relieve general debility as it is a rejuvenate tonic and has adaptogenic, analgesic, antibiotic, anti-stress, cardio-protective, and diuretic properties.

Eleuthero root (Eleutherococcus senticosus) has been traditionally used to prevent colds, flu-like symptoms, and to increase normal energy levels and general vitality. It is one of the best adaptogenic herbs to help the body cope better with either mental or physical stress. It can increase the body's abilities to resist and endure physical, normal body chemical responses (cortisol) and psychological stress. Thus, it can enhance stamina, increase resistance to infections and accelerate recovery. Eleuthero root is a tonic to help relieve general debility and/or to aid during convalescence. This herb helps to improve mental/or physical performance after periods of mental and/or physical exertion, and has adaptogenic, anti-viral, cardio-protective, diuretic properties and is an immune stimulant.
