Setup & Operation Instructions

IC0tec AD400 Electronic Predator Decoy

1

Add Batteries

Open battery panel on back of unit, place 4 new AA batteries as indicated below, then close panel. Lithium batteries for best results in cold conditions. 1.5 volt AA batteries only.

2

Turn Power Switch On

Slide switch to ON to activate decoy, slide switch to ON/L to activate decoy with LED light for night time hunting. When finished slide switch down to OFF.

3

Connecting to an IC0tec Caller

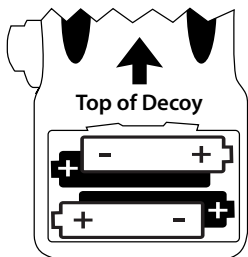

Remove the original battery door from the IC0tec game call (GEN2 GC300, GC350, GC500, 300+, and 350+), replace the decoy battery door with decoy and secure with thumb screw. Now you can connect the 3.5mm cable to the decoy port on the caller. Turn the caller ON. Turn decoy ON, if decoy begins to run select the DECOY button on the remote to deactivate it.

The decoy has a low battery indicator integrated into the PCBA board. If the batteries are running low, the red LED will blink. You should have about 6 hours of battery life left at first sign of blinking. It is time to charge your batteries or replace the AA batteries.

When storing the unit for long periods of time, we recommend removing batteries from your decoy.
