No rinsing is necessary.

Doctor Bum's is also safe for use around eyes, ears, nose, and mouth areas. Provides relief from hot spots, rashes and sores. Also protects from itchy or irritated skin on all animals.

Powerful Active Ingredient: Hypochlorous Acid HOCl

Hypochlorous acid (HOCl) is the powerful natural ingredient in Doctor Bum's Wound & Skin Care. The body's white blood cells naturally produce HOCl as part of its immune system response. Doctor Bum's is pH balanced and safe for all common pets and animals. Doctor Bum's targets only affected tissue to help your pet heal fast. Doctor Bum's doesn't sting or burn and is safe to use around sensitive areas such as your pet's mouth and eyes. Use as directed.

Irritation Free pH-balanced Formula

Hypochlorous acid has a balanced pH just slightly below that of perfectly balanced water. Bleach and other anti-itching materials are often very alkaline with high pH ranges greater than 11 which can cause irritation. Not only does our HOCl formula have a mild pH, it is also a very reactive chlorine molecule which means it works with a concentration hundreds of times lower than toxic bleach.

The Doctor Bum's Advantage

Doctor Bum's is safe for pets and can be licked or ingested. It's formula is non-cytotoxic and the active ingredients are proven to help soothe irritated damaged skin and help speed the healing of wounds and post-surgical areas. Doctor Bum's helps jumpstart the natural healing process to help relieve pain and clean skin and wounds. Use as directed.

Doctor Bum's is Safe for Pregnant, Senior, & Distressed Animals

Doctor Bum's has no reported issues for vulnerable animals that may be pregnant or nursing, senior, or distressed. Doctor Bum's is natural, safe, and effective when used as directed. Doctor Bum's has no known adverse drug or treatment interactions, however, please check with your veterinarian before use.
