CAUTION: Take extra care when folding/unfolding the Zero Gravity Chair as there is a potential risk of finger trap/pinch points. Take extra care when locking/unlocking the Folding Lock Handle. It poses a risk of finger trap/pinch points.

WARNING! Do not overload the Zero Gravity Chair. Maximum weight capacity: 300lb.

Do not use the Zero Gravity Chair on uneven ground.

Do not use the Zero Gravity Chair if any part is damaged.

Never attempt to modify Zero Gravity Chair in any way. Improper use may cause accident and injury.

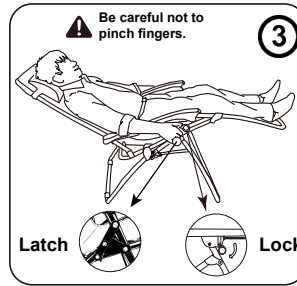

1. Stand the chair upright on legs, with the pillow facing forward, and move the Folding Lock Handles to the UNLOCK position on both sides.

2. Holding the backrest, gently push the chair's seat base toward the ground, until both the front and back legs of the chair are FIRMLY TOUCHING THE GROUND.

▲ Be careful not to pinch fingers.

3. Place both feet on the footrest bar. Lean back and push the footrest bar forward and upward simultaneously until the chair reclines to your desired position. Then, move the Folding Lock Handles on both sides to the LOCK position, and fasten the latch at the same time.

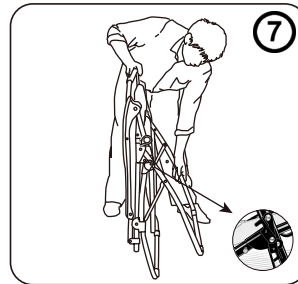

4. Move the Folding Lock Handles on both sides to the UNLOCK position to release the locks. Once the locks have been released, press downwards with your feet on the footrest to return to an upright position.

5. Resting your foot on the back leg support, pull the backrest to an upright position. The main function of this latch is to lock the chair to prevent it from toppling over due to a shifting its center of gravity or to prevent the sliding of the chair leg tube. Therefore, when using it, make sure the lock is securely fastened to ensure the safety of the user.

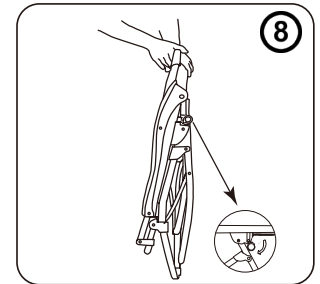

6. Make sure the chair is securely positioned in the upright seating position, proceed with care to sit upright with feet on ground.

7. To fold away, ensure to unlock safety latch, then hold the backrest and gently pull the chair's seat base toward the backrest until both meet completely.

▲ Be careful not to pinch fingers.

8. Lock the chair with the Folding Lock Handles to the LOCK position on both sides. The chair now is ready to be put away.
