

CLEARSTREAM™ JUICE™ PLUS UHF / VHF / FM PREAMPLIFIER FOR TV ANTENNAS

Enhanced Signal Quality: Boost UHF, VHF, and FM frequency bands' signal strength for TV reception throughout the home, delivering crystal-clear reception, even in challenging conditions.

Easy Installation: User-friendly design and professional-grade, high-performance materials make installation straightforward and hassle-free, perfect for both professional installers and DIY enthusiasts.

New weather-proof housing: The preamplifier tilts up within the housing, facilitating effortless connection of coaxial cables. Once connected, the housing closes securely to protect all ports from environmental elements.

LTE Filter: Positioned before the amplification circuit, the true 5G filter effectively prevents overloading from LTE and 5G interference, ensuring peak performance without disruption.

Compatibility - NEXTGEN TV, 4K, 8K UHD, Full HD 1080p.

Experience the Next Level of Signal Amplification With the ClearStream JUICE Plus

New! Introducing the ClearStream JUICE Plus preamplifier, the next generation of JUICE amplification, with improved LTE attenuation and performance across the frequency bands it is engineered to amplify. Designed for superior performance and durability, the JUICE Plus features new enhancements that make it the ultimate choice for boosting antenna signal strength and improving signal quality. Adding this preamplifier fortifies reception of UHF, VHF, and FM frequency bands and helps overcome challenges like coaxial cables over 50 ft., the use of splitters, and weak signals. Whether you're dealing with LTE interference or simply need a robust solution for boosting TV signal strength, the JUICE Plus delivers unmatched reliability. Ideal for both home or professional installations thanks to professional-grade, high-performance materials and design. Includes everything needed for installation and all-weather mounting hardware to accommodate a mast up to 3" in diameter.
