VETERINARIANS RECOMMEND IAMS

IAMS is recommended by vets - take a look at what a few say.

Dr. Laura Robinson
DVM

I love IAMS for my own pets and all my patients because it not only has 75 years of science-backed nutrition to support it but it's also accessible and available to all pet owners.

Dr. Zonram Liao
DVM

As a veterinarian practicing in my hometown, community means everything to me, and when my clients ask me about pet food recommendations, I recommend IAMS because of how accessible their diets are to the everyday pet parent, while also providing science backed nutrition to their pets. Giving the pet parents in my community access to trustworthy diets, for their pet's every day and functional needs.

75+ YEARS OF INNOVATION & QUALITY

Paul Iams founded The Iams Company in 1946, pioneering the world of pet nutrition by focusing on advanced formulas. With partnership from breeders and nutritionists, Paul Iams gained insights into the significance of protein and the function of fat in pet food diets. Understanding the unique needs of cats and dogs, he incorporated high-quality animal proteins into pet food, a practice that has since become an industry standard. Over the years, the Iams brand has continued to innovate, with discoveries that support pet health and is still focused today on bringing quality nutrition and education through science.
